In October 2015, Monika Kobylecka, esteemed Acupuncturist and teaching assistant of Master Acupuncturist Kiiko Matsumoto, returns to Australia to conduct further trainings in Kiiko Style Acupuncture.

This seminar, New Developments in Kiiko Style Acupuncture, covers the newest concepts, theories and techniques which are the fruits of Master Acupuncturist Kiiko Matsumoto’s tireless clinical research, in an in-depth and structured learning approach, which Monika is famous for. For those who attended LOMNSS 2014, or missed out, this is a great opportunity to cover or revise Kiiko’s latest material, to take your practice of Kiiko Style Acupuncture (KSA) to the next level. Those with prior studies in KSA are welcomed to attend. Those without prior studies in KSA, wishing to commence studying this style of acupuncture this year, are recommended to attend the Foundations in Kiiko Style Acupuncture course, being held in Perth on 2nd-5th October, 2015.

Monika’s seminars fulfill the continuing goal of raising the level of proficiency in the practice of Kiiko Style Acupuncture within Australia and New Zealand.

Kiiko Style Acupuncture has been continuing to evolve over the years as Kiiko Matsumoto refines and develops the treatment strategies that she has integrated as a result of her study with important Japanese acupuncture Masters, including Master Nagano, Master Kawai and Dr. Manaka. Monika Kobylecka has had the unique opportunity of studying, working, and teaching with Ms. Matsumoto for more than 10 years, and has dedicated herself to the practice and teaching of this clinically effective Acupuncture style.

Monika specializes in presenting Kiiko’s most up-to-date information, in a highly structured and coherent manner, allowing attendees to maximize their understanding of Kiiko Style Acupuncture, enabling them to apply it fluently within their practice on their first day back in clinic, for outstanding clinical results.

“Monika is a wonderful teacher, highly skilled and has a great understanding of the Kiiko style of acupuncture. She has studied with me for years, and has spent a great deal of time gaining a thorough understanding of my own work. I completely trust her to teach my material to students and am happy to have her on my team.”

Monika was introduced to Japanese acupuncture whilst completing her Master of Science degree at Pacific College of Oriental Medicine in San Diego, California. Upon realizing the amazing effectiveness of Kiiko Style Acupuncture, Monika dedicated herself to practicing this style of acupuncture, and has diligently studied and applied Kiiko’s work since then by continually attending Kiiko’s seminars, assisting in Kiiko’s clinic in Boston several times per year, and over the past years, as a result of her firm grasp of Kiiko Style Acupuncture and highly organized approach, assisting to teach alongside Kiiko at her seminars, running introductory and hands-on courses in Kiiko Style Acupuncture in the US, and co-authoring Ms Matsumoto’s, soon to be released, new textbook. Between her teaching schedule, Monika runs a busy private practice in Santa Clarita, California, and also practices at the Akasha Center for Integrative medicine in Santa Monica. In addition to her private practice, Monika received privileges at Children’s Hospital Los Angeles, where she is a clinic supervisor for the CHLA-YSU Pediatric Acupuncture Program.

“My initial exposure to Kiiko was incredible and overwhelming at the same time. I am so glad that I have had the opportunity to study with Monika for this reason. Monika is meticulously organized and prepared for her presentations. She has a down-to-earth, step-by-step approach that describes how to understand the theory and practice of this incredible style of acupuncture.

I can honestly say that I am able to implement what I learn with Monika on my first day back in the office and the results are immediate. The material that she presents is relevant and useful to anyone practicing acupuncture. Truly a life changing experience.”

Which practitioners/students will benefit from taking Monika’s courses?

- Practitioners wishing to build upon the knowledge and skill base taught in previous Kiiko Style Acupuncture Courses
- Practitioners with a strong background of practice and personal development in Kiiko Style Acupuncture within their own clinic based on previous studies, seminar attendance, or study and application of Kiiko Matsumoto’s Clinical Strategies books.
- Practitioners wishing to increase their effective clinical results by using methods that are easy to learn and apply instantly in clinic.
- Practitioners and students wanting to develop further in the practice of Kiiko Style Acupuncture, so that they may utilize this system of treatment fluently in clinic for outstanding results.
- Practitioners and students wanting to further develop their skills in a system of acupuncture whereby they conveniently measure the clinical effectiveness of their treatments during the treatment.

Seminar Details

This two-day seminar is designed to build further upon practitioners’/students’ skills in Kiiko Style Acupuncture, through detailed lectures, and demonstrations. As attendees will have considerable experience in Kiiko Style Acupuncture already, less time will be spent on the hands-on component, and more time will be spent on lectures and direct observation of Monika treating attendees, and explaining the processes and concepts. However, the course will be 20% hands-on to cover the necessary component of Monika critiquing the hands-on skills and development of attendees and their progression in KSA. A Q&A segment will also feature.

This Seminar has a maximum of 50 attendees permitted. Please book early to avoid disappointment.

Material Covered in this Seminar:

Monika will be covering all of Master Acupuncturist Kiiko Matsumoto’s latest material which was introduced to Australia in December 2014 during LOMNSS 2014.

Ms Matsumoto has continued to develop and refine Master Nagano’s concepts over the years, whilst tirelessly researching into the ancient Chinese classics and testing these concepts and theories clinically. This tireless research has led to a number of important insights that have informed and expanded the way in which Kiiko Style Acupuncture is now practiced.

Unique topics Monika will cover in this Two-Day Seminar:

- Ren Mai & Du Mai theory + treatments
- “Missing Organ” theory + treatments
- Du 16/Marrow/Wind-Pathogen Leading to 10,000 Diseases theory + treatments
- Low Stomach-Acid Root Treatment, theory and applications
